RPVC Cable Ducts (3917)

The most serious danger of general Rigid PVC Wiring Duct is that in case of fire large volume of smoke and toxic gases are released which ultimately causes the fire related death. Emissions of HCL gas in case of fire has irritant effect on eyes and causes choking of respiratory system. Hence reduction of smoke emissions is very much desirable.

AKG Rigid PVC (RPVC) wiring ducts are manufactured from specially compounded Fire Retardant (FR), Low Smoke (LS) and high impact Rigid Poly vinyl Chloride (RPVC) raw material. By using low doses of plasticizers and lubricants with addition of specialty chemicals FRLS properties are imparted to AKG RPVC wiring channels. The final results of AKG wiring channels are

1. High limiting oxygen index (LOI)
2. Low Smoke Density rating (SDR)
3. Excellent Flame retardant (V-0 Characteristics).

AKG wiring ducts has flammability rating of V-0, REAH & ROHS compiled and has working temperature of -5° to +60° Celsius (140°F). Not only this, AKG wiring channel are available in wide range of Colours, Sizes, Unslotted, Thin Slots (Narrow Slots), Wide Slots & styles to meet customers' requirements.
